

Richard ELLIOTT
Director, Communications and Events

Richard began his career as a journalist, reporter, and programme producer, working for the BBC, NBC, and EuroNews, amongst others. Richard also developed and executed communication strategies for the World Economic Forum's portfolio of activities including the annual meeting in Davos and its regional summits. His most recent position was with UNI Global Union as Director of Communications.